

AMENDMENT TO THE CLAIMS

1-4. (Cancelled)

5. (Previously Presented) A method for inhibition of keloid and/or hypertrophic scar formation in a course of therapy of wound or dermal injury which comprises administering a medicament containing acetylsalicylic acid in an effective amount to a wound lesion of a patient.

6. (Previously Presented) A method for inhibition of keloid and/or hypertrophic scar formation in a course of therapy of wound or dermal injury which comprises administering a medicament containing acetylsalicylic acid in an effective amount of 0.005 to 1000 $\mu\text{g/g}$ per tissue weight to a wound lesion of a patient.

7. (Previously Presented) A method for inhibition of keloid and/or hypertrophic scar formation in a course of therapy of wound or dermal injury which comprises administering a medicament containing acetylsalicylic acid in an effect amount of 0.01 to 800 $\mu\text{g/g}$ per tissue weight to a wound lesion of a patient.